JENELLE & NATHAN BACK ON!

Evans tells Us Griffith asked her to start wearing her engagement ring again.

Jenelle Evans' love story isn't over. The Teen Mom 2 star tells Us she and ex Nathan Griffith, 27, are "trying to work things out." The duo's relationship unraveled within months of their January engagement when Griffith was arrested for domestic violence in March. (Evans also faced domestic violence charges after a May spat.) "Things got rocky," the star of the MTV hit (season 6 premieres July 9 at 10 P.M.) said June 25. "But all of the legal issues are dropped. Everything's all good."

WHAT WENT WRONG Trust was the main issue for the parents of 12-month-old Kaiser. "Nathan thought I was being unfaithful," explains the medical assistant student, also mom of Jace, 5. The pair of two years took a break, during which Evans, 23, signed up for Tinder. "I talked to guys on there, but never met up with anyone," she says. Now she's seeing only Griffith. They reunited in early June, and Evans even slipped her sparkler back on. "But we're not trying to jump back into it," she explains. "We're backing up and going forward slowly."

Evans gave a glimpse of their Father's Day celebration with Kaiser June 21.

FEUD OF THE WEEK

ROSE VS ADAM

Rose McGowan isn't backing down. On June 17, the actress, 41, called out a male whose name "rhymes with Madam Panhandler" (later confirming it was indeed Adam Sandler, 48) for a casting note requesting actresses audition in a "form-fitting tank that shows off cleavage." While a source close to Sandler's production company says he didn't know about the memo, McGowan argues sexism is an industry-wide issue. "It's not OK to be treated like a piece of meat," she told Good Morning America June 26. "I just want to make it better for the next girl coming after me, to know that she doesn't have to sell her body . . . to be a creative person."

PBS ordered producers to hire another fact-checker before new episodes can air.

AFFLECK EFFECT

History lesson: PBS has postponed season 3 of Finding Your Roots after concluding that Ben Affleck had "improper influence" over the genealogy series' producers. An investigation began after emails hacked from Sony in April revealed that the actor, 42, insisted his slave-owning ancestor be omitted from a 2014 episode. The show's obliging host and producer, Henry Louis Gates Jr., 64, regrets the ethical lapse, telling Us in a statement: "I apologize for putting PBS . . . in the position of having to defend the integrity of their programming."

WHAT'S IN MY BAG?

Filled to the brim! Abigail Spencer, 33, lets Us sift through her stuff

I was the girl in middle school who carried all of her books because I might have the chance to study," the actress tells Us. Flash forward 20 years, and the star of Rectify (SundanceTV, premieres July 9, 10 P.M.) still uses a backpack — only now it's crammed with travel essentials. "Sometimes, I'm on planes two to three times a week!" The mom of Roman, 6 (with ex Andrew Pruett), briefs Us on her Tumi knapsack.

SAVING FACE

"I carry this EMK Placental Anti-Aging mask for when I fly. It's totally sheer so nobody knows that you're wearing it. I've noticed a huge difference."

SOUND STATEMENT

"My ears are really small, so I wear Frends over-the-ear headphones. They look so cool. I'll put them around my neck and they look like a necklace!"

ARRIVAL REVIVAL

"Saje's Travel Safe Kit has really helped me. It's an aromatherapy set that has healing ointment, an eye mask and digestive oil. It's so compact, which is great since I live out of my bag."

DENTAL WORK

"I don't know what's happened to me, but I've become a public flosser. I'll break out Gum Soft-Picks at any moment."

FEEL THE FORCE

"I always have something of my son's with me, like Pokémon cards or one of his Lego figurines. I might be carrying around Obi-Wan Kenobi!"

ELLIE KEMPER

Today's Fresh Face

Ellie Kemper is getting an early wake-up call. The Unbreakable Kimmy Schmidt star, 35, will join Today as a part-time host this summer, filling in whenever Willie Geist, 40, Tamron Hall, 44, Natalie Morales, 43, or Al Roker, 60, is away. "This is my summer camp," the actress gushed June 25. "Thank you for being my counselors!" Producers hope her charm will help boost the show's ratings. Says an insider, "She'll liven it up and draw younger viewers."

Kemper (in NYC April 15) joins the 9 A.M. hour.

Alosi

The entertainer was released on bail hours after his June 22 arrest.

DIDDY: BENCHED

Bad sport. Sean "Diddy" Combs, 45, was arrested for assault with a deadly weapon, making terrorist threats and battery June 22 after an alleged fight with son Justin's college football coach. The mogul confronted Sal Alosi in his UCLA office hours after Combs heard the junior, 21, was booted from a practice session. During the bout, according to a campus publication, Combs gave Alosi "scratches on his face" and swung a kettlebell at an intern who tried to restrain him. Still, a rep for Combs argues the actions "were defensive in nature."

SCREAM

The 1996 horror flick has been resurrected — with a new cast and mask! — as an MTV series (Tuesdays at 10 P.M.). "We're making it cooler and younger," Bella Thorne (left) tells Us.

THE X-FILES

Though Mulder and Scully will reunite for just six new episodes (premieres on Fox January 24, 2016), David Duchovny (left) teases, "We didn't bring it back with the idea of ending it."

FULL HOUSE

TWIN PEAKS

KIM & KANYE

Piña Colada Party for Two

Kardashian and West toast one year of marriage

Hey, it's a lot cheaper than renting out a stadium. An insider tells Us that Kim Kardashian and Kanye West spent their first anniversary May 24 in their $20 million Hidden Hills, California, mansion watching Troop Beverly Hills, as DVR'd by Mrs. West. At their side, a private bartender, hired just for the occasion, served them piña coladas in bed. (Kardashian, 34, then three months pregnant with their son, drank hers sans alcohol and stuck mostly to coconut water.) It makes sense: West, 38, a frozen drink fanatic, has sampled Rupert Holmes' "Escape (the Piña Colada Song)." And the mom of 2-year-old North is a longtime fan of the cult 1989 flick. Savvy followers of Kardashian's Vine account will recall an April 12 clip in which the reality star recited its classic line: "I may be a beginner at some things, but I've got a black belt in shopping."

Moving on From Chris

Nobody said it was easy. Jennifer Lawrence and Coldplay's Chris Martin, 38, have parted ways for a second time, an insider tells Hot Stuff. "Jen has been working nonstop and they never saw each other," the source says of the couple of nearly a year, who reunited last December after a month break. Meanwhile, the actress, 24, has reconnected with another off-on flame: her X-Men: Apocalypse costar Nicholas Hoult, 25. "They're on great terms now," adds the insider, noting director Bryan Singer posted a photo of the smiley duo from the Toronto set May 21 (left). "And their families have stayed close."

JOHN LUKE & MARY KATE

Ducklings Say 'I Do!'

Mary Kate McEacharn tells Us she had one request for her June 27 vows to John Luke Robertson, 19: no camouflage. "We wanted it to be different than Duck Dynasty," says the bride, who wore a silk Sherri Hill dress. The pastel-and-floral fete was a family affair, officiated by the groom's dad, Willie, in front of 850 guests at his West Monroe, Louisiana, farm. Later, a local band covered "Louisiana Saturday Night" and more. Adds McEacharn, 19: "The dance floor was full the entire time!"

RHEA & MARK

Big Apple Getaway!

After six years of marriage and four children, Mark Wahlberg and wife Rhea, 36, know how to avoid relationship ruts. "Just spend quality time together," the Oscar-nominated actor, 44, told Us at the June 24 NYC premiere of his film Ted 2 (out now). "That's what matters." With their brood — Ella, 11, Michael, 9, Brendan, 6, and Grace, 5 — at home in Los Angeles, the parents danced at a June 22 Madison Square Garden New Kids on the Block concert (Mark joined brother Donnie, 45, who performed "Good Vibrations," on stage!). And they ventured to Coney Island June 23 to help Donnie and Mark's older brother, Paul, 51, open the newest outpost of Wahlburgers eatery.

The pair attended the Mail Online party June 24.

KYLIE & TYGA

Romance in France

Stateside, Kylie Jenner, 17, and rapper Tyga, 25, play down their relationship. But the couple of eight months made a rare red carpet appearance together before a party aboard a yacht in Cannes June 24. "It's so much fun to travel with him," Jenner, who turns 18 August 10, gushed to the U.K. news site Mail Online. Still, the reality star dropped the usual f-bomb, adding, "I always like having my friends out on the road with me!"

JOANNE'S PALACE DATE

Anna's moving up in the world! Joanne Froggatt took a break from playing Downton Abbey's beloved maid for a night out at Kensington Palace with husband of nearly three years James Cannon. The Golden Globe winner, 34, and the IT consultant sipped Pimm's Cup and nibbled canapés at a June 22 fete thrown by Vogue and Ralph Lauren. Once she wraps the sixth and final season of the PBS hit, the actress reveals, the couple are considering relocating to L.A.: "I'd like to work on a big-budget U.S. film."

The couple (in London June 22) wed in 2012.

CHANNING & JENNA

Worth the Wait

The attraction was immediate when Channing Tatum met Jenna Dewan Tatum on the set of 2006's Step Up. But the costars didn't act on their feelings for three months. "Because we were working . . . we were trying to do the right thing," the Magic Mike XXL star, 35, told Howard Stern June 23 about keeping the relationship professional. Married to Dewan Tatum, 34, since 2009, the dad of Everly, 2, recalled: "We didn't have sex!"

Tatum (at a June 25 Freixenet fete in L.A.) calls Dewan Tatum his "counterweight."

ALEXI & SETH
Sunrise Coffee Talk

Late Night host Seth Meyers and wife of nearly two years Alexi Ashe are early risers. "We really cherish our mornings," the New York City resident, 41, tells Us of the 31-year-old human-rights attorney he met at Saturday Night Live alum Chris Kattan's 2008 wedding. "The messed up thing is, when we split up, I take an SUV to work and she gets on the subway. We go in opposite directions!"

MARRIAGE EQUALITY SHOUT-OUT

Matt Bomer kept his marriage to publicist Simon Halls, 51, private for three years before surprising fans in 2014. The father of young sons Walker, Henry, and Kit publicly thanked Supreme Court justices after they declared same-sex marriage a constitutional right June 26. "Today is a huge step forward for our country and my family," the Magic Mike XXL star, 37, tweeted. "I'm so grateful and happy!"

Kodjoe (with Parker in NYC June 15) calls their relationship "playful."

BORIS & NICOLE
A Joint Venture

Working together, well, works for Boris Kodjoe and wife of 10 years Nicole Ari Parker. The parents of Sophie, 10, and Nicolas, 8, fell for each other on Showtime's series Soul Food in 2000. ("He told me, 'We're going to be married with kids one day,'" the actress, 44, recalls.) Now the pair are launching The Boris and Nicole Show July 6 (on select Fox-owned stations). "We'll talk about . . . love, sex, parenting," the actor, 42, tells Us. "It's all authentic."

"I'm really attracted to you," Bristowe revealed to Booth on the May 19 premiere.

OOPS!

She Did

"He's a good person," Bristowe said of "villain" Viall on the June 22 episode.

To It Again!

Bachelorette Kaitlyn Bristowe rushed into sex with Nick Viall — then went for it a second time!

BY SARAH GROSSBART

To find her prince, Kaitlyn Bristowe had to kiss a lot of frogs, er, suitors. After all, as she reasoned to Extra, "how do you establish chemistry with someone if you don't kiss them?" The fun-loving Bachelorette had no qualms about exploring said chemistry, either. On the June 22 episode, she and front-runner Nick Viall consummated their relationship in a darkened-hotel-room scene punctuated by heavy breathing and him whispering, "I want to know all of you." After the episode aired, judgmental fans swarmed — but Bristowe made no apologies. "I maybe regret the timing, not the action," she explained in an Extra interview the next day. "I just don't like upsetting other relationships."

Or risking her happily ever after. With five other potential husbands

still in the mix, Bristowe worried that Viall's loose lips would destroy everything. (The guy did lash out at Bachelorette Andi Dorfman for dumping him, asking, "Why did you make love with me?" on their 2014 After the Final Rose confessional.) She steeled herself to shake up The Bachelorette (ABC, Mondays, 8 P.M.) yet again: According to a show insider, Bristowe, 30, "decided to tell the guys she was serious about" — and Connecticut personal trainer Shawn Booth was first on the list. In an off-camera conversation, she had let slip that he was The One ("She got swept up in the moment," explains a source). So it was imperative that the Vancouver, British Columbia, dance instructor come clean, says the insider: "She knew Shawn was going to find out. She figured it was better to have her tell him, but she was genuinely worried he would leave." On the bombshell July 6 episode, Bristowe unburdens herself. "He was heartbroken," says the insider. "He was devastated, absolutely."

KAITLYN TELLS ALL

Unlike other over-the-top one-on-one dates, there's no helicopter or private concert when Bristowe and Booth meet — just an Irish pub and the cold, hard truth. After a round of small talk during which Bristowe stammers on about trust and honesty, she nervously reveals to Booth, 28, that she and Viall had sex. "It had been weighing on her," explains the insider. "Every time Shawn said, 'I'm having a really hard time with this,' she thought it was about her and Nick sleeping together."

Turns out, it wasn't. A stunned Booth, who had only been seeking reassurance through the tough process, "had no idea it had happened before Kaitlyn told him," says the insider. Unsure of how to respond, he excuses himself to the restroom "and stays in there for a while."

Ghastly Group Dates

Dinner and a movie is for amateurs. On this franchise, contestants need to be able to flirt in any situation.

- WHILE MOURNING Bristowe asked the men to eulogize her in a June 22 Irish wake. Booth blamed Viall for her death!
- WHILE MODELING Sean Lowe asked his gals to pose for cheesy romance novel covers.
- WHILE SHAKING IT A visit to The Ellen DeGeneres Show meant a dance-off for DeAnna Pappas' men — in their boxers!
- WHILE STRIPPED DOWN On Ben Flajnik's season, aspiring brides skied down a "snow"-covered San Francisco street in skimpy swimsuits.
- WHILE GETTING MESSY Future farmers' wives on Chris Soules' season had to shovel manure, milk a goat and wrestle a greased pig. Yeehaw!

Lowe played stallion to Lesley Murphy in 2013.

Bristowe struggled — and failed! — to keep a straight face June 22.

Marcus & Lacy Make It Official!

The two said "I love you" on Paradise in 2014.

Score one for Bachelor in Paradise! A year after coupling up on the ABC spinoff, Marcus Grodd, 27, and Lacy Faddoul, 26, made a special guest appearance in Mexico for season 2 (returns August 2, 8 P.M.). "They got married at the start of the show!" says a source of the sports medicine manager from Andi Dorfman's season and the real estate agent from Juan Pablo Galavis' season. Back in January, the bride-to-be had teased that summer nuptials were in the works. Referencing her infamous math flub on Paradise, she joked, "We're a little 80–40 on the exact date."

After coming back, he gamely tells Bristowe what she wanted to hear — that he will "man up" and get past it. Inside, though, "he was distraught," says the insider. "He's so masculine that in a weird way, her sleeping with Nick felt almost emasculating." But to Bristowe it just felt natural. "She is the most physical Bachelor or Bachelorette the show has ever had," says the insider. "She finds it curious when other people are not."

'THE OTHER GUY'

Bristowe's choice of bedroom partner — a man Booth hated so much, he refused to utter his name — only compounded the pain. According to the source, "the fact that it was Nick really hurt Shawn." His dislike of the software sales executive was common knowledge. On the June 22 episode, Booth groused that "the other guy" wasn't trustworthy. He also bristled at Viall's not-here-to-make-friends attitude. "I don't think he really gives a s--t about anybody here," Booth complained on the June 22 episode. And while the source notes that "Kaitlyn has insane chemistry with both guys," each connection is different. Says the source, "Shawn is the hunk and Nick is more intellectual. I think the biggest reason Shawn disliked Nick was that they're so different. Shawn even said, 'I'll sleep well at night if she picks you because I'll know she doesn't want a guy like me.'"

He isn't resting easy in the July 6 episode, though. As Viall is spending the night "as a couple" with Bristowe in the fantasy suite ("They slept together again," says the source), Booth is stewing. The next day, he decides to confront the Chicagoan, 34, in their hotel. In fact, calling to get the room number "was the first time he said Nick's name," says the source. The romantic rivals don't come to blows, however: The hits are all verbal. "They just let each other know they hate the other," says the source. "All Shawn wanted to do was say, 'I think you're a scumbag.'"

PACKING HIS BAGS?

Booth's feelings toward Bristowe were less cut-and-dried. After their date in San Antonio, the first-impression-rose winner told Bristowe he was falling in love. "She just makes me feel something that I've never felt before," he gushed in the June 29 episode. But hearing about her romp with Viall left him questioning whether he could move forward. Says the source: "He absolutely thought about leaving."

In the end, Booth decides he's just not ready to walk away. "Every instinct for Shawn was to leave," says the source. "But he just had this pull toward her." Or, as Bristowe would call it, chemistry. US

TERESA'S PRISON

"Orange" burgers. Inmate infighting. Teresa Giudice gets real about life in jail

BY ERIC ANDERSSON

Six months in the slammer hasn't hardened Teresa Giudice. In fact, the Federal Correction Institution in Danbury, Connecticut, has made the former table-flipping Real Housewives of New Jersey star feel . . . at om. The mom of four, who works out three times a day while serving her 15-month sentence for fraud, has taken up yoga. As she noted in her diary March 3, "It keeps me sane."

Teresa 2.0 is also more introspective. Nearly every night since her January 5 incarceration, Inmate No. 65703-050 climbs into the top bunk of her cubicle-style cell, opens her powder blue journal and chronicles her likes (Bob Harper workout

"I called the girls after school today," Giudice, 43 — who has daughters Gia, 14, Gabriella, 10, Milania, 9, and Audriana, 5, with husband Joe, 45 — wrote in one undated entry. "I miss them so much. They are all I think about all day long, and I pray that God helps me to go back home to be with my daughters and my husband. Please God, help me." Giudice plans to use her diary as part of her memoir, which she intends to publish upon her December 23 release. "It's going to be about growing up from humble beginnings," explains her attorney, James J. Leonard Jr. "She will also tell the story everyone is dying to know: what life is like behind bars." Us has an exclusive sneak peek at Giudice's diary, excerpted here in her own words.

January, Undated

They had BBQ beef [for dinner]. I did not eat that. . . . I watched the movie Jersey Boys. . . . It was a good movie, but also sad. His daughter died in the movie and it made me very upset. I was crying and have been very emotional the rest of the night. I called Joe and he told me he was brushing Milania's hair and Gia was videoing him! I loved to hear that and I wish I was just there with them. At 8:00, watched Atlanta Housewives and was seeing Porsha's [ex] husband [Kordell Stewart] hooking up with someone she works with. Aprea (right, with Giudice, Gorga and Napolitano, from left) tells Us filming was "difficult."

Housewives Cleans House

» Producers are pruning Bravo's Garden State Housewives. A show source tells Us that season 6 newbies Amber Marchese, 37, and twins Teresa Aprea and Nicole Napolitano, 45, may not return for the upcoming season 7. Teresa Giudice's sister-in-law Melissa Gorga, 36, will likely return, and original cast member Jacqueline Laurita, a season 6 part-timer, is "99 percent" coming back, according to the source. Ex–NFL star Tiki Barber's wife, Traci, is also being considered for a role. "The hope is that they can start taping in the late summer or early fall," says the source, "so they will still be rolling when Teresa gets out of prison and can capture her homecoming for TV."

"I make sure to give them lots of love and kisses," Joe (at the prison May 10) tells Us of the girls.

Joe Steps Into the Spotlight

Teresa Giudice is about to glimpse her family's life without her. Joe and their daughters are filming for Bravo at their $3 million Towaco, New Jersey, home. Intended for a one-hour fall special, with more episodes potentially to follow, the footage captures Joe — who begins his 41-month sentence for fraud after Teresa's return, then faces deportation to Italy — launching a floor-cleaning business and organizing car pools. "Days go quick," he tells Us. "Who's gotta go here? Who's gotta go there?" An insider says taping "will continue through the summer" and include his in-laws Melissa and Joe Gorga. The onetime enemies, explains the source, "realize there are more important things in life than arguing about petty things." Teresa, for her part, "is keeping tabs on production in daily emails with Joe, the girls and her lawyer," says the insider. "Nothing happens without her approval."

now to evaluate the situation. She is a crazy lady who fights with everyone.

February 27, Day 53
Woke up at 6:15, went to breakfast at 6:30, had French toast and oatmeal. Checked emails, drank my coffee and watched the news. Did yoga at 8:30 till 9:10. At 12:00 to 1:00 they had Black History Show. They had Spanish dancers and rappers and talking about black history and handing out questions about black history. Whoever answered the questions right gets a Hershey candy bar or a pack of tuna.

March 3, Day 57
I went to the gym with Lara at 1:00 to 2:30 and did another Bob Harper tape. Then I did a Jillian Michaels Ripped tape, week one. Then I went to lunch at 3 P.M. and had rice, a chicken patty again, spinach. They were serving [sweet and sour pork] with peppers. I didn't eat the pork. I checked emails again. Count was at 4 P.M. After that, I called home and spoke to my girls and my mom and dad. . . . Step class at 5:30 to 6:30 P.M. I showered then hung out. Went to rec room at 9 P.M. to watch The Voice. Count was at 9 P.M. Then after that, RHOBH until 10 P.M. I checked emails. Going to bed around 11 P.M. Good night.

March 7, Day 61
Woke up at 7:15. . . . Started getting ready for my visit. Joe and my daughters and my mom are coming. Took a shower. . . . Did my hair curly especially for my husband. He loves my hair curly.

March 16, Day 70
I got an email from Gia. She got an award for perseverance. I started crying at the computer. I was so happy for her, and saying to myself, "That is my daughter." US

Tre's New Pen Pal

After months of complaining Teresa Giudice would not add him to her approved email list, Real Housewives exec producer Andy Cohen finally won her over. The Watch What Happens Live host, 47, who once sniped that Giudice was "in complete denial" about her guilt, reached out via her New Jersey–based attorney, James J. Leonard Jr. "She wasn't too receptive," Leonard tells Us. But he was impressed by Cohen's sincerity: "I told Teresa I thought Andy was genuine and really cared for her well-being." Now, he says, "they are communicating."

"I want to see justice served," Bobbi Kristina's cousin Shayne Brown tells Us of Gordon (with Bobbi Kristina in 2012).

Did He Do it?

A shocking new lawsuit accuses Nick Gordon of emotionally and physically destroying girlfriend Bobbi Kristina Brown

BY BRAD WITTER

As Bobbi Kristina Brown was taken off life support and moved to Peachtree Christian Hospice in Duluth, Georgia, June 24, her family was resigned to the 22-year-old's fate. "Despite the great medical care at numerous facilities, [her] condition has continued to deteriorate," her aunt Pat Houston, 55, said of the late Whitney Houston's only child, who was found facedown in her bathtub January 31. "She's in God's hands now."

But the Houstons and Browns, led by her father, Bobby, 46, are not leaving their need for justice to chance. That day, the grieving relatives hit her boyfriend, Nick Gordon, 26, with a $10 million civil lawsuit. Suspecting foul play, the family had joined court-appointed conservator Bedelia C. Hargrove in digging through Bobbi Kristina's bank account and phone records. The investigation gave them reason to doubt Gordon's innocence and demand a trial by jury, a tactic they hope will get him jailed if Bobbi Kristina dies. "Filing a civil case is a way to keep the pressure on the authorities to file criminal charges," says Atlanta attorney John F. Wymer, who is not employed by the family. Us breaks down the disturbing claims.

HE MANIPULATED HER

Raised by Whitney as Bobbi Kristina's unofficially adopted brother from age 12, Gordon became publicly romantic with Bobbi Kristina after she received a multimillion-dollar inheritance in 2012. By 2014, the family claims, Gordon "perpetuated the fraud that he had married Brown, though in fact he never did so." (Bobbi Kristina also used spousal titles.) Using the relationship to exact control, he allegedly answered her cellphone and forbade her from making appointments without his approval. Their take: "This was all part of a scheme to benefit from her wealth."

HE STOLE HER MONEY

His plot, they say, involved "routinely transferring a large portion of Brown's funds into an account controlled solely by him," without her consent or authorization. And after she was placed in a medically induced coma, he "stole in excess of $11,000" from her account, according to the documents. A source close to the pair confirms such money transfers were commonplace. Explains the insider, "He has relied on her financially for years."

HE ABUSED HER

Claiming Bobbi Kristina has "suffered life-threatening bodily harm" at Gordon's hand, the suit also details instances of domestic violence, including him "punching her in the face, knocking out a front tooth and dragging her upstairs by her hair." (A neighbor in their Roswell, Georgia, community reported a domestic disturbance at their townhouse one week prior to Bobbi Kristina's hospitalization.) "The abuse had gone on for years," alleges the source.

SHE TRIED TO ESCAPE

A Brown insider insists Bobbi Kristina had "tried to leave Nick several times." Just before the tragedy, Bobbi Kristina allegedly confided to a pal that Gordon "was not the man she thought he was" and scheduled a January 31 meeting to discuss the revelation. But she never got to share her story. Instead, her family describes her engaging in a loud argument with Gordon just hours before she was found "with her mouth swollen and another tooth knocked out." As Hargrove put it, "Brown suffered extreme, visible, life-altering bodily harm as a result of [Gordon's] outrageous, unwanted harmful and offensive contact." US

A Most Wanted Man

» In addition to the civil lawsuit, cops may charge Gordon should Bobbi Kristina die. "The Roswell Police Department has forwarded its investigative file to our office," Fulton County District Attorney Paul L. Howard Jr., who serves the Georgia city, tells Us. "We will be reviewing the case with greater interest." Biding time will yield a bigger payoff, adds a source: "The DA is waiting until Bobbi passes so he can hit Nick with felony murder. He's going for the jugular."

Gordon dodged questions in Florida June 27.

Alec & Hilaria MEET

"Alec does other things, not change diapers," Hilaria (with Alec, Carmen and Rafael June 22) jokes to Us.

OUR SON!

The Baldwin family introduces Rafael, born with his dad's nose and a "chill" temperament

BY SARAH GROSSBART

When Hilaria Baldwin awoke with pains at 2:30 A.M. June 16, "I thought I couldn't be in labor," the NYC-based yoga pro recalls to Us. Just hours earlier her doctor had told her and actor husband of three years Alec, 57, not to expect their son for two weeks. But after a tough — and tense — 23-hour labor ("Every husband pisses their wife off while they're in labor," she jokes), Rafael Thomas was born at 1:21 A.M. on June 17. Hilaria, 31, says she was in tears, while Alec (who also has daughter Ireland, 19) was in awe: "It's his first son. He can't even believe it."

FAST FRIENDS

The 7-pound charmer ("He is a Baldwin!" says Hilaria) also has 22-month-old Carmen smitten. "She wants to kiss him, hold him, sing to him and feed him food he can't eat," says Mom. "She's a good big sister." US

Hilaria chose a celestial nursery theme to help Carmen adjust: "She's like, 'If Rafael likes stars and moons, I guess he's OK.'"

Hilaria calls her boy (who has one ear like Dad's, one like Mom's) "very calm."

To prepare Carmen for her brother's arrival, Hilaria "bought her dolls we called Rafael."

"I think we'll have one more eventually," says the cofounder of NYC's Yoga Vida (with Rafael).

25 Things YOU DON'T KNOW ABOUT ME

It's all about Mimi! The five-time Grammy winner lets Us peek inside her lavish world

1. I smoked quite frequently from the time I was 12 to when I was 18. I gave up smoking in one day and never went back. I absolutely detest cigarette smoke now.
2. I have an extreme aversion to overhead lighting. In my opinion, elevator lighting is toxic!
3. I have totally natural nails.
4. I do not observe birthdays. I do, however, celebrate the anniversary of my birth [March 27] every day at 3:27 A.M., P.M., E.S.T., P.S.T., and S.T.!
5. I am a very sloppy neat freak.

6. The first mixed drink I ever had was a sloe gin fizz.

7. I arrange flowers in my spare time. Well, when I have spare time, that is.
8. I can make a mean gluten-free lasagna and an even meaner pecan pie.
9. I'm a very good laundress, when I have to be.
10. I dislocated my shoulder two years ago, and it was the worst pain I've ever experienced. I had to wear a glove for a while because it affected my hand as well. Thanks to physical therapy, I'm finally glove-free!
11. I can whistle with my hands.

Carey's #1 to Infinity show is running now at the Colosseum in Las Vegas' Caesars Palace.

12. My favorite things are vintage chandeliers and sconces. I have them everywhere decorating my Tribeca penthouse apartment.

13. I do all of my own stunts in videos. The Jet Ski scenes, the fight scenes, all of them!
14. I can do many impersonations with the various octaves of my voice.

15. Time is irrelevant to me. I never wear a watch.
16. I swim in evening gowns and heels.

17. I'm addicted to Scandal, How to Get Away With Murder and Veep.

18. I hate mascara! I never wear it. Whenever a makeup artist tries to put it on me, I throw a fit.
19. I may hold the world record for most rides on the Twilight Zone Tower of Terror ride at Disney World.
20. I dyed my hair orange by accident in the seventh grade. It was a major disaster!
21. I started beauty school in the 11th grade, and a year later I was officially a beauty school dropout.

22. I love animals! I'm a cat person, a dog person, a dolphin person. . . . Crazy about them all!

23. The bathtub is my place of serenity. Any tub, really — bathtub, hot tub or whatever. As long as there is water.
24. I make incredible food every Christmas Eve.
25. I was a mathlete. Just kidding — I even failed remedial math!

JADA'S NEW MOVES

Pinkett Smith welcomes Us to the stripper's stage

Jada Pinkett Smith wants to get something off her chest. "I've never been to a male strip club," the Magic Mike XXL actress, 43, tells Us. "Adult entertainment, when you think about it, is kind of a dirty word." But starring as an MC at a stripper convention alongside Channing Tatum and his crew of oily hunks gave her a fresh perspective. "I got to this convention with hundreds of women and there was a solidarity between us that I had never felt before," she says of filming the sequel to the 2012 hit (out now). "We had some fine-ass men to entertain us and make us feel good about ourselves!" The mom of Jaden, 17, and Willow, 14 (with husband Will Smith, 46), bares her thoughts for Us.

Q: What do you think of strip clubs now?
There's no reason adult entertainment can't be celebratory. . . . It's about exploration. [The movie] rejuvenated my energy and spirit.

Q: Did you pick up any moves?
No, I didn't try to dance. Channing was like, "Nuh-uh! You are going to stick to emceeing!"

Q: Well if you did dance, what would your stripper name be?
Mini Kitty! . . . I think we all have that woman inside of ourselves.

Q: Will your kids see the movie?
I don't think so. This is where you go, "Mommy's going to do this red carpet. I think you guys should stay at home."

"Coffee" is burning up the charts. And a new batch of sexy singles is brewing

He's responsible for lyrics like "Old souls, we found a new religion / Now I'm swimming in sin, baptism." But Miguel, the Grammy winning master of baby-making R&B, doesn't actually write anything down. "I found that essentially just emoting works best for me," the 28-year-old L.A. native (real name: Miguel Jontel Pimento) tells Us. "I just kind of ride the wave. You have to paddle out as far as you can, let the wave set up and f--king ride, you know?"

CROWD SURFING The results of that surge appear on his album Wildheart (out now), named for his personality. "Overall, I'm pretty chill," explains the boyfriend of singer Nazanin Mandi. "But there's this other side of me that's way out there." He does have a certain charm: While chatting with Us, he joked about doing shots from his Grammy trophy (he drinks tequila, for the record). "I'm about to do one right the f--k now!"

Wildheart, says Miguel, is both "poetic" and "aggressive."

Channing Tatum gets back on his pony in this pec-tacular sequel

The ladies are finally in control this summer. All it took were six men gyrating in assless chaps. Oh, yes, this follow-up film about a pack of male strippers is both light on its feet and a dazzling feat of sexy entertainment. Three years have passed and the titular Mike (Channing Tatum) is happily running his own furniture business. Then he hears his ol' dancing standby, "Pony," and spontaneously busts a move in his woodshed, Flashdance-style. Of course, he simply must join his former cohorts on a road trip from Florida to South Carolina for a stripper convention. Along the route, Mike recruits his saucy ex (Jada Pinkett Smith) to be the act's new emcee and befriends a lost soul (buzzkill Amber Heard). Good riddance to the unanticipated grittiness of the original, replaced here by an easy breeziness that enables the guys to be in on the joke. (Picture Joe Manganiello bumping and grinding and dousing himself with bottled water to a Backstreet Boys ditty in a convenience store. Now picture it again.) Even more welcome, the women, who Pinkett Smith calls "queens," are respected and empowered. And boy, do they receive their dollars' worth during the ridiculously gleeful climactic performances at Stripper-Con. Come and get it.

Winehouse won five Grammys in 2008, but wasn't allowed to attend the ceremony.

Amy

★★★½

Before Sam Smith, before Adele, there was Amy Winehouse. This fascinating documentary chronicles how the groundbreaking neo-jazz vocalist went from fun-loving British schoolgirl to outspoken chart-topper — only to squander it all with drug and alcohol abuse. But Winehouse, who died in 2011 at age 27, was so much more than the girl who refused to go to rehab: Raw home videos show a teen Amy serenading her friends with a glorious version of "Happy Birthday" and anxiously prepping for a duet with Tony Bennett. It's worth noting that though her family is interviewed on camera, they have since rallied against the film. Indeed, the unsettling footage of Mitch Winehouse exploiting his visibly unstable daughter will break your heart.

STANDOUT STARS OF THE SUMMER (SO FAR!)

Even when Pitch Perfect 2 turned out to be Pitch Totally Mediocre, Wilson's fearless, ageless Fat Amy was willing to split open her pants and serenade her guy with a Pat Benatar song for a laugh. Bring it on, part 3.

ZOË KRAVITZ

The lithe actress pulled double duty, portraying a steely prisoner on the run in Mad Max: Fury Road and an unattainable cool girl studying for the GED in Dope (above). It's time for a starring role, Miss Kravitz.

JASON STATHAM

As Spy's hilariously arrogant agent, he boasts about his death-defying feats (he once jumped from a skyscraper using a raincoat as a parachute!), yet totes around a girlie Louis Vuitton backpack. Good to see that the muscular action star also has a funny bone.

PAUL DANO

People. For the love of all good vibrations, see Love & Mercy! The biopic of Beach Boy Brian Wilson features his gorgeous music and top-notch performances. Dano leads the way, playing the tortured genius in his prime.

INDOMINUS REX

WEDNESDAY 7/8

Million Dollar Listing San Francisco

It's the classiest Listing yet! The reality franchise's newest high-end real estate agents — peppy Justin Fichelson, gay Andrew Greenwell and orthodox Muslim Roh Habibi — have dramatic backgrounds and depth to go with their requisite competitiveness. Plus, the Frisco setting teems with stylish homes and capricious techie buyers. Sold. (Bravo, 10 P.M.)

WEDNESDAY 7/8

The Spoils Before Dying

From its boozy author intro (by Will Ferrell) to its ridiculously low-budget look, this LOL imagining of a long-lost crime flick commits. Dying — like predecessor The Spoils of Babylon, a spoof of sudsy epics — is trippy, yet at times obscure. The plot: a Pulp 101 mix of jazz pianist (Michael Kenneth Williams), chanteuse (Kristen Wiig) and murder. Then Wiig sings a hammy, hilarious ode to booze and pills! (IFC, 9 P.M.)

Wiig does her own vocals (as does costar Maya Rudolph)!

ON THIS WEEK

MONDAY 7/6

CHASING LIFE

Foster and Ricci

Life goes on and into season 2. Despite her cancer relapse, April (Italia Ricci) preps to marry adorable Leo (Scott Michael Foster). She's so determined to live large, her bachelorette party lands her in jail! (ABC Family, 10 P.M.)

WEDNESDAY 7/8

CONAN

Berry

Presenting Conan O'Brien's Comic-Con cavalcade! The late-night talker hosts four nights from the San Diego fan frenzy. Let's hope Halle Berry shows to chat up Extant (and make Conan go "rawr"). (TBS, 11 P.M.)

FRIDAY 7/10

SEX WITH BRODY

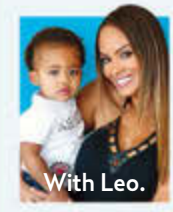

Jenner

Self-proclaimed "sex connoisseur" Brody Jenner takes call-in questions about nookie, love and perhaps gender identity in this four-parter. Celeb guests and a therapist also chime in with advice. (E!, 10:30 P.M.)

SATURDAY 7/11

LIVIN' LOZADA

With Leo.

Can't keep an ex–Basketball Wife down! In her own reality show, divorced Evelyn Lozada aims to enjoy pro baseballer fiancé Carl Crawford, their 15-month-old, Leo, and daughter Shaniece, 21. (OWN, 9 P.M.)

NEW ON VIDEO

Ex Machina

★★★½

Vikander longs to be a human.

Wowza. This sci-fi thriller may be small in scope, but it's hugely accomplished. Coder Caleb (Domhnall Gleeson) is chosen to spend a week in the remote fortress of his company's paranoid billionaire CEO (Oscar Isaac). Caleb's task: Perform psychological tests on an A.I. robot (Alicia Vikander) created to look and behave like a demure, beautiful woman. Soon, the two form an unnatural bond. Sleek and tense, the cutting-edge pic amazes right through to the chilling end. (Amazon and iTunes, $13–$15)

A prostitute has dirt on Spacey.

House of Cards

Season 3

Now, non-Netflixers can marvel at murderous POTUS Frank Underwood (Kevin Spacey) as he plots to keep his perch. In a delectable development, two female candidates try to match him in wheeling, dealing and blackmailing. Frank's sudden (pat) troubles with craven wife Claire (Robin Wright) are less scintillating. As the leads square off, though, the prospect of seeing Frank's world collapse has the tension of a close election. (DVD, $35) JG

OUT FRIDAY 7/10

Cody Simpson

Free

★★½☆

Who says today's teens lack ambition? Much like in his 2013 CD Surfer's Paradise, Cody Simpson seeks to be his generation's beach-bumming soft-rock king here. But, jeez: The 18-year-old Aussie's breezy tunes — crammed with unforgivable clichés such as "a frown is just a smile turned upside down" — are as lightweight as a virgin daiquiri. Let's hope he grows out of that fast. (Coast House/Banana Beat Records)

"The songs are about peace and freedom and stuff," he tells Us.

MY TOP JULY 4TH TRACKS!

Meek Mill, 28, whose album Dreams Worth More Than Money is out now, gets festive

OCEANS / JAY Z WITH FRANK OCEAN
"A classic. It was all you heard on 4th of July weekend in 2013."

KNOW YOURSELF / DRAKE
"For the block parties! You can't help but go crazy when it comes on."

MY WAY / FETTY WAP WITH MONTY
"This record will definitely be playing at everybody's barbecue or cookout."

I LIED / NICKI MINAJ
"Something for the ladies. Nicki's speaking from the heart right here."

MATRIMONY / WALE WITH USHER
"Couples will play this on the 4th and at weddings all summer long!"
